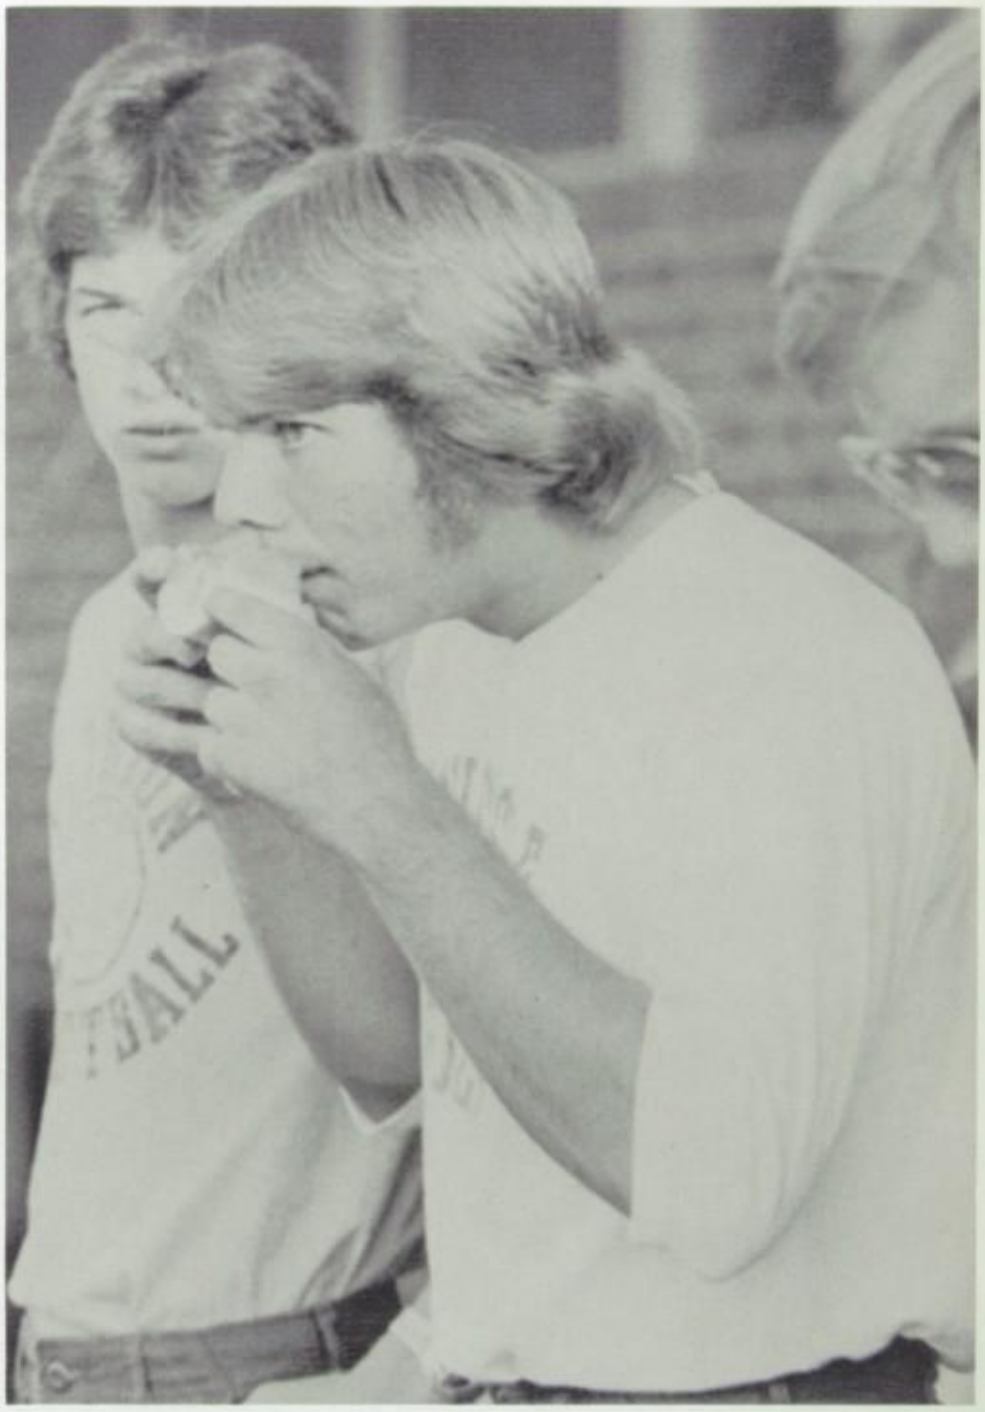
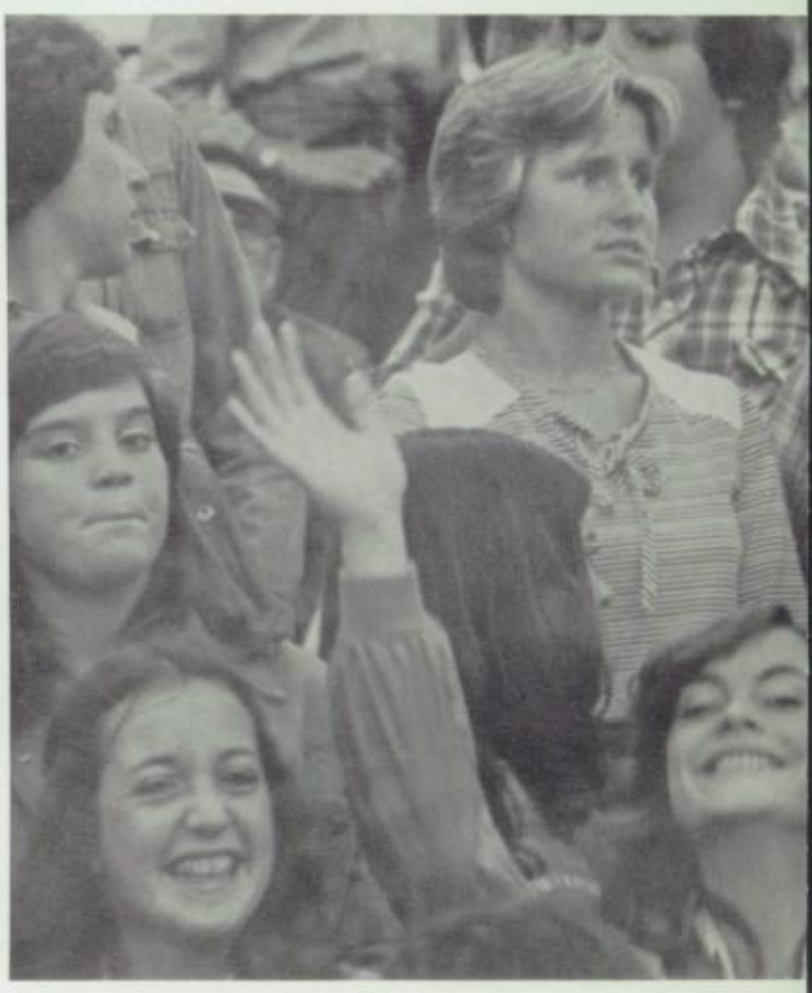
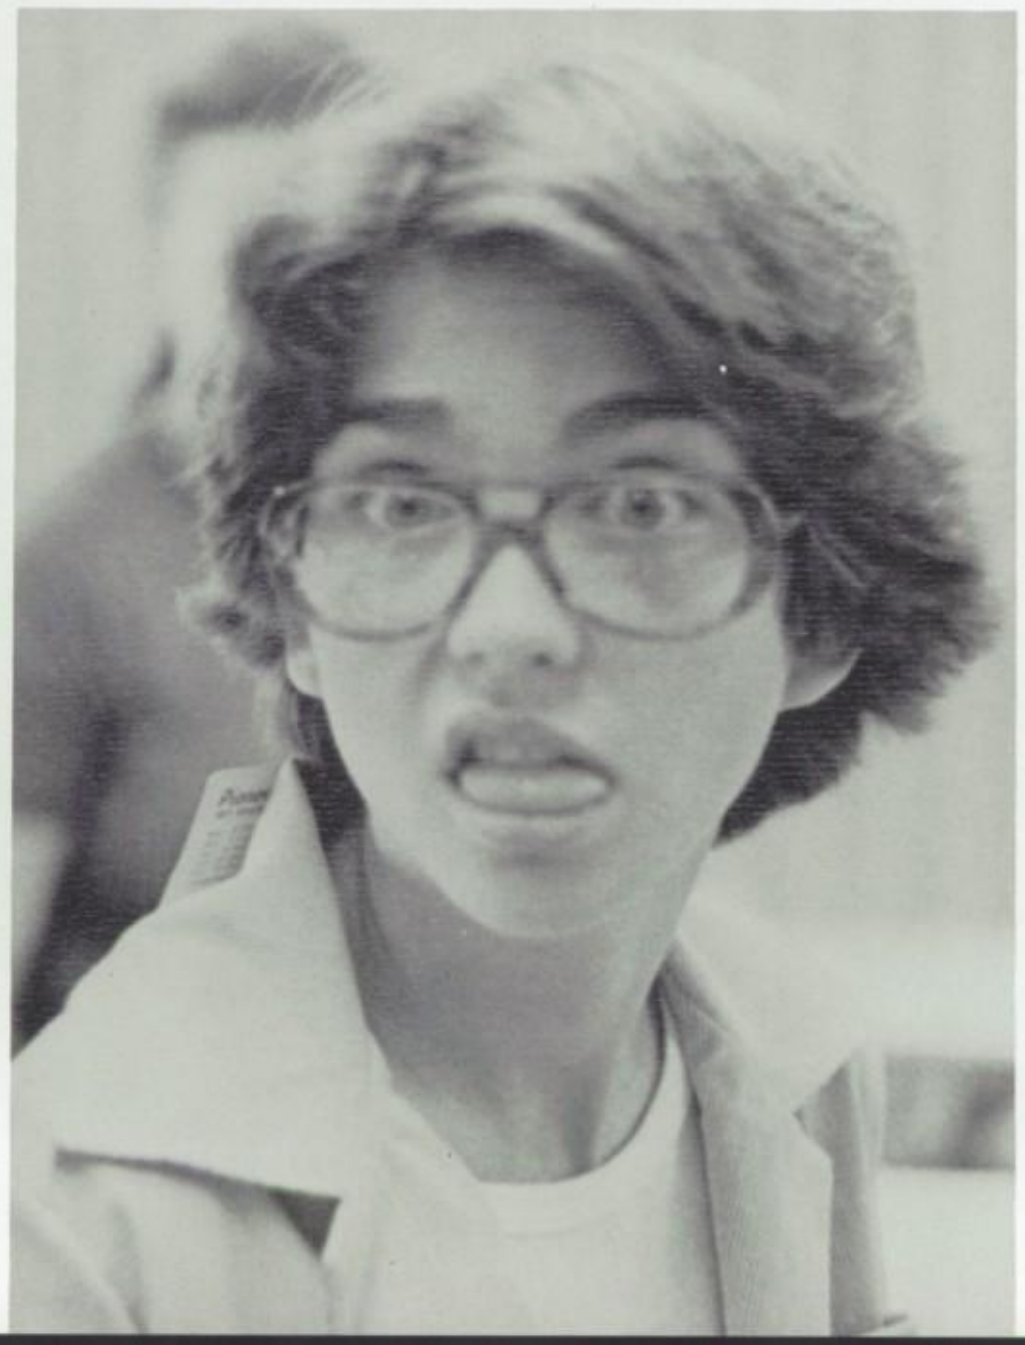
Welcome.
During your stay here at C.E. Donart High School you will find that our traditions of academic and moral excellence are the highest possible. You will also learn not to believe everything that you read. Nevertheless, our school receives you into its ranks with high hopes for an outstanding year. Failing that, and so long as you don't park in a Visitor's space in the parking lot, everything should be just fine and dandy.







Work hard.
We feel that it is very important that you attend school regularly. While this plan is not perfect, neither is life. As an added inducement for you to acheive this goal we have a semester test exemption policy that we hope will encourage you to put your best foot forward. Unfortunately, missing class due to athlete's foot does not count as an excused absence.

B.F.Goodrich

Be proud of your school!
As a school citizen you are expected to act like a high school student. However, please try to curb such impulses as much as possible. You will learn necessary and useful skills for the future. You might even get something out of your classes. If you are a new student to C.E. Donart, you may find some things unfamiliar at first, but you will soon realize that there is nothing you can do about it.

Finally,
a brief word about school spirit. The truly loyal student supports his school and does his utmost to keep his scholastic and activity standards at the highest possible level. We like to see students straining for the last possible ounce of enthusiasm. Of course, then, we also like to watch small pebbles, very bright lights, and the evening news. And we particularly enjoy saying, "And now for something completely different" at every possible opportunity. Good luck.

Our presentation this evening has been "The Class of '78" starring Groucho Marx, Robert Redford, the Mormon Tabernacle Choir, and a cast of 347. It was presented by C.E. Donart High School in cooperation with the City of Stillwater and several dozen pizza parlors, fast food operations, and associated enterprises.

The original story was taken from a morality play of the late 15th century by an obscure monk who shaved his head and had strange dreams. The screenplay was written by a romantic poet who was in between affairs and had nothing better to do at the time.

Dance scenes in the second act were choreographed by the entire city of Buffalo, New York. Our thanks to the Pioneer Marching Band for spelling out the zip code in formation while playing La Cucharache at double-time.

Costumes were provided by the Levi-Strauss Company and 30 packages of very strong bleach. Sets were designed and built to the scale of the actual C.E. Donart High School on location in the Libyan desert.

This release was filmed in living color, which was later killed and mounted for your viewing pleasure. Any resemblance between this work of fiction and the actual reality which it was modeled after is purely coincidental.

The production was directed by sheer desperation and produced in utter confusion. We would like to thank all involved with the filming, especially the short bald man in the green suit sitting on the front row. We couldn't have done it without you.

Testing: One, Two, Three . . . Eeeny, Meeny, Miny, Moe . . . Am I on yet? . . . Oh . . . Teachers, please excuse the following brief announcement: The Junior Class in its continuing drive for the first all-denim prom will be selling souvenier mugs in the T-hall today thru May 24, 1978. These handsome, durable glasses are specially printed with the school motto, uncensored and with all the shocking details for the first time in paperback, school song, school creed, whatever it is, and school mascot, paper training included.

Yes, now is the time for you to stand up and be counted as one who supports the futility and vain struggle of life. And, for a limited time only, with the purchase of three or more mugs, we will give you free the Junior Class officer of your choice.

And, if you've already bought a number of mugs and are still gullible enough to want to give more we certainly have no qualms about reselling an item already paid for. We think that the Class of '79 is probably one of the greatest in the long tradition of C.E. Donart High School. In a nutshell: Pay up or we're going to break all of your fingers — slowly.

One final announcement: The prayer vigil for the Junior Class Treasurer has been rescheduled for 8:00 tomorrow evening. Thank you for your support and remember, your donation may be the one which allows this poor, afflicted class to walk again among the sunshine and daisies.

This being your first day of Driver's Ed we'll go over some of the basic fundamentals involved in the successfull operation of a motor vehicle. I see that most of you here are sophomores, so let's start with the key. Place it in the keyhole, keeping your left hand on the steering wheel, your right foot on the brake, your left foot six inches from the emergency brake, with your eyes firmly glued to the sign placed directly above the rear view mirror which reads: "Screw up and I'll kill you."

Now, turn the key and press lightly on the accelerator. Use your foot in this operation. If there is a buzz, it means that you have forgotten to fasten your seat belt. If your belt is fastened and the buzz persists, it means that your car will self-destruct in five seconds. This is equivalent to a C+ on your final test.

Next, place both feet and the spare tire firmly on the brake. Carefully put the car into Drive. Take a very deep breath. Relax. In a few short moments you will take the lives of your fellow students into your extremely inexperienced hands. Don't be nervous. Most fatal accidents occur between the hours of 11:30 and 1:45. It is now 12:24. Begin driving.

As you SLOWLY circle the course note the lines running down the sides of the road. A little beyond these lines is a five-foot deep ditch. Do not look at the ditch. It would only serve to distract your attention from the series of barrels placed at five-foot intervals between which you are to manuever your car. When you have completed the obstacle course stop at the brick wall. Do not proceed through it as you would a red light.

At my signal form up into an orderly line, each car three and one half feet apart, and practice quick stops. I wish all of you good luck. This has been a recording.

FRESHMEN

Congratulations. You have made it to that proverbial first rung of the figurative ladder, that symbolic foot of the mythical mountain, the very base of the very base dung heap. Sad as it may seem you have, albeit unwittingly, become a freshman. Alas for those golden days of the past, three long months ago, when you were an eighth grader among sixths and sevenths, a giant among barely visible microorganisms, when all was right with America and the World. Yea, how the mighty have fallen.

But I say, yet again, nothing, particularly lunch and the five minute break, lasts forever. While there is still life there is hope and, inevitably, a sock hop after the game. We must have faith, for without faith what would there be but chaos and confusion and the morning announcements? Together, ever onward through the seething crowds of tormented souls trying to get to their lockers and back to class before the bell rings, we shall plunge into the teeth of the battle and, with divine guidance, achieve great things. Perhaps even to one day park unnoticed in the visitors' section.

Such is the manner in which time flows forward as surely as the waters of the sea promptly evacuate the premises at 3:15. Woe be unto those without the eyesight or the ambition to mark and wait upon the inexplicable miracle of the passage of the hours.

And so to the concluding notes. Each day is the dawn of a new adventure. Each adventure the promise of a new sensation, a different outlook upon the face and measure of knowledge. Oh, to be young again and a participant in this glorious exercise.

Then, again, it could be worse.

STUDENT COUNCIL

When in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to meet third hour and argue amongst themselves, and to assume among the powers of the Earth that of overseer of the Student Store and seller of coke during free periods to which the Laws of Nature entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should report at least once a week to the governed masses.

Anyone for Zebra Zapping? The zebra hunt was held by STUCO.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all programs, movies, and dances are created equal. It's just that some cost more than others. That all fund drives are endowed with certain inalienable rights, among which are apathy, lack of support, and class competition inevitably won by the freshmen.

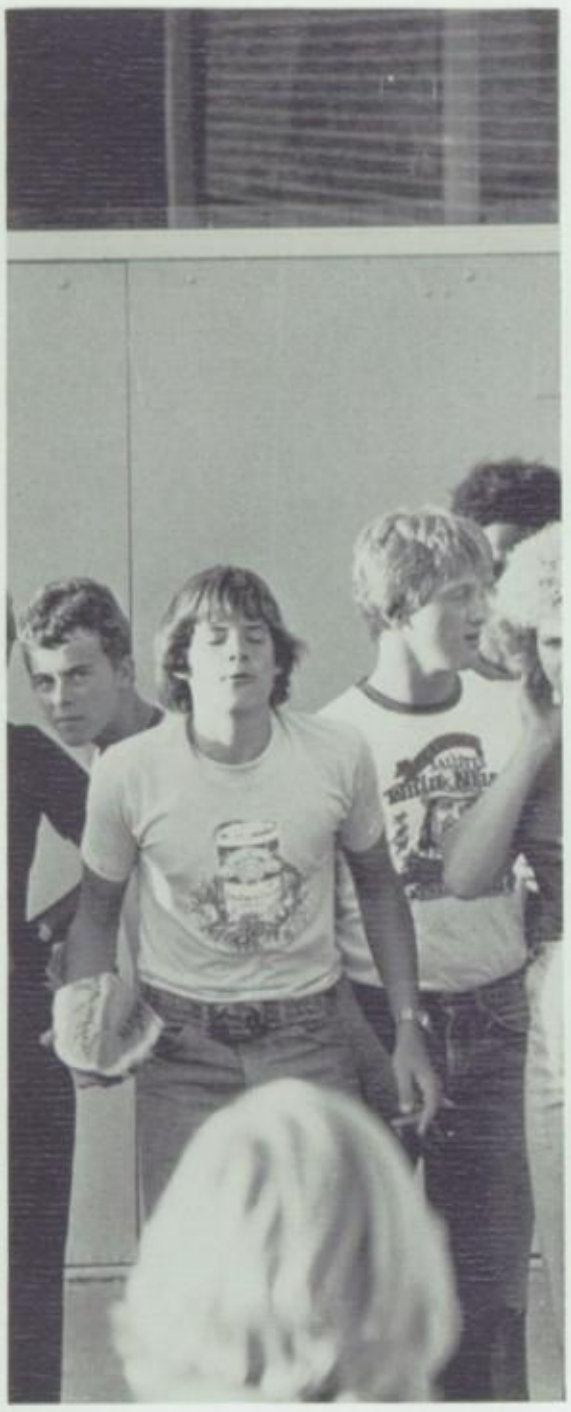
We, therefore, the representatives of the student body of C.E. Donart High School in general congress assembled do declare that these doughnuts are, and of a right ought to be, 15¢ a piece and 40¢ for three. And for the support of this declaration, with a firm reliance on the obvious intelligence of the electorate, we mutually pledge our Official Notebooks, our Sunday Afternoons, and our sacred Lunch Periods.



Scott Shedrick concentrates.

Mary Rice, Pam Ward and Ken Krenz make Student Identification cards.

PRESIDENTS COUNCIL

PRESIDENTS COUNCIL is a small group made up of all club presidents. We could think of not one iota of satirical material to write about a group of people who work very hard to try and coordinate the activities of some 30 or more organizations.

Stuart Butler, Donna Hutchison and Leca Bode listen to detail for Christmas parties.

Julie Baker and Alan Knust discuss problems with other SSB members.

The STUDENT SOUNDING BOARD, despite rumours to the contrary, is not a 12' x 6' piece of plywood. It is, however, composed of students from all four grade levels, which is not to say that they've all been ground up to make a table or anything, but rather to meet in an informal atmosphere to discuss complaints and problems of the students.

YOUTH AND GOVERNMENT

Craig Stunkel and Susan Honska head towards a meeting.

President Mary Jewett will challenge any opponent to her bill to a debate.

The Sergeant at Arms contemplates her tough job of silencing the minority.

Y&G (YOUTH & GOVERNMENT) is the inventive combination of two little used letters into an organization with purpose and a knack for little known dances. All of this is combined with the YMCA to participate in district and state legislative meets which, like their real-life counterparts, have very little to do with the actual functioning of the State of Oklahoma. Nevertheless, these hardy individuals work hard at their respective money-raising and money-spending activites.

NATIONAL HONOR

The NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY is composed entirely of the top ten percent of the Senior class. Innovation and a progressive state of mind should naturally be expected of such a group. The club has chosen to pay tribute to English teachers everywhere by dropping the silent "H" in the word Honor, thus creating the first chapter of the National Oner Society in the northern half of Payne county.

Gifts were given at a NATIONAL HONOR party.

STATE HONOR

A voting decision receives enthusiastic participation.

STATE HONOR is made up, primarily, of those who manage to pass English and also happen to place in the top ten percent of their class. It's no accident then that their sponsor is Mr. Chessmore and that they spend most of their meetings listening to speakers, and having fun.

MU ALPHA THETA is not a strange breed of cattle or the capital of South Yemen. It is a group of math students who, for some unknown reason, can't get enough of the subject. Although research facilities across the nation are working around the clock to find a cure for this debilitating malady, some members of the Stillwater chapter are even beginning to like it. Many long hours are spent in devising and perfecting decorative exhibitions. The club's ultimate goal is to excute a full-length portrait of Albert Einstein in the Tournament of Roses Parade.

CHESS CLUB

CHESS CLUB members wash cars, clean up apartment complexes, celebrate almost everything, play Risk, Hearts, Canasta, and the Kazoo, wear T-shirts, and meet once a week. There is even a rumor that occasionally they do once in a while play chess.

Science club members are a new breed of joiners. They don't have officers, have very few meetings, and lots of activities. They do manage, though, to have fun by just belonging to a group that can only be described as different. The year is concluded by a banquet and the remainder of the summer is spent in regaining sanity.

LIBRARY CLUB

Library aides spend most of their time helping people. So do automatic vending machines, except when they jam. But what sets the library people apart, aside from the fact that they don't jam, is the way that they do it. How many times has the library really messed up? None. When was the last time you went to pull a book from a shelf and it wouldn't come out? Never. Can the main office match this perfect record? Can the Tampa Bay Buccaneers equal this accomplishment? Not at all. The next time you go by the library, look around. It's a nice place.

Linda Ellis and Sherri Venable busy themselves working on a bulletin board in the library.

SPANISH CLUB

The highlight of Spanish club's year was a spring trip to Mexico. Those members who went spent a number of weeks in preparation by eating tacos and not drinking the water. Many also spent much of their fourth and fifth hours resting up for the traditional Mexican siesta. There was also a special seminar in the correct response to Montezuma's revenge. Other activities were parties throughout the year, breaking pinatas, and putting them back together again.

French club is very similar to a tossed salad. There are a lot of things mixed up in it, but only one kind of dressing. Although members do not walk around with labels identifying themselves as either tomato, lettuce, or garlic, they do express themselves in activities. For those who like to eat, most of the members of the club, there are French restaurants and home made creme puffs. And for everyone else there is Charles DeGaulle. Learning through living the language is a big part of the group's activities. After all, a taste for snails is very much an acquired habit.

Mrs. Clark lights up the flame to start the French Club dinner.

Latin Club is dedicated to the preposition that the language of Rome is not dead, only slumbering very deeply in an otherwise indifferent world. Latin has, indeed, provided us with a number of things without which we would all be the poorer. Who, for instance, will ever completely forget Charleston Heston in Ben Hur? Or Rex Harrison dying on the steps of the Roman Senate? One of the unique things about Latin Club is its practice of reviving and reliving Roman traditions. After several fasts and banquets they've shown that a language is only as dead as the way it's treated, at least until the next test.

The Future Farmers of America is a group whose activities belong very much in the present tense. What with plowing the north forty, slopping the hogs, milking the cows, watching the price of wheat fall, and entering judging contests all over the state there wouldn't seem to be much time for getting together to just meet like any other club. However, they do find time, adding greased pig chases, hayrack rides, the modeling of burlap bag shirts, horse shoe pitching, and barrel riding to an already crowded list. And without the hats, it all just wouldn't be the same.

The FUTURE HOMEMAKERS of AMERICA take on the practical side of living, from how not to burn boiled potatoes to how to fix a stopped up drain. They also manage to find time for other activities that don't involve pots and pans or plumbers' helpers. Their concerns are not totally exclusive of the homemaker, by herself, and a part of their time is spent on self improvement. They are a very active group, with a very definite goal.

DECA

As if a class and a part-time job weren't enough, DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION students also have a club, connected to a national organization, conventions, conferences, seminars, and other assorted and sundary convocations. Here in Stillwater, they hold meetings and banquets, take on extra jobs such as designing the musical program, and annually select a queen. Throughout all of this, the qualities of leadership and enterprise are stressed in theory and practice. This relationship of classtime and freetime, which doesn't usually end up so free, is unique.

DECA members absorb information on how to be good businessmen and women.

RODEO CLUB

RODEO TEAM members fall down alot and when they aren't on the floor of some arena, the treatment they're getting from some horse or bull says alot for raising goldfish. These pioneers show an unflinching optimism, every time they mount a bronc and carry on their heads a $50 hat. To many of them, Rodeo is a symbol of their way of life, and the bruises and broken bones a symbol of Rodeo.

FCA

The FELLOWSHIP of CHRISTIAN ATHELETES involves more than sports and other than the usual club activity. The group meets twice a week, and has a definite program and objective. It's one of the larger clubs at Donart and one of the most visible in running concession stands and participating in special school activities. There is a bond among these people that extends the fellowship beyond school and beyond the high school years.

GIRLS VARSITY is the female counterpart to the 'S' Club. In a world of strength and size such as athletics, they stand out not only in their achievements, but also in being themselves. GVC is not just locker room stories and the next game.

It's also an atmosphere of companionship. At a time and place when girls' sports is just breaking the ice and taking a run at the prominence of the boys, that feeling, and the quality of the Donart group, is needed.

"S" CLUB

Burlap has alot to do with membership in the 'S' Club. So do raw eggs, mud, and a couple of other things. And besides all of this, prospective members have to first earn a varsity letter, which is not the same thing as a telephone call from the football coach or a pat on the back from the basketball trainer. Why anyone would want to go through the initiation is another question entirely. Suffice it to say that once everything has dried and been scrubbed off, it's really a very exciting club to belong to. HONEST!!!

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS do more than just jump up and down, turn summersaults, cartwheels, yell, lead cheers, put together assemblies, and show up at all the games, matches, and rallys. They also stand still at times. Some days they even have only school work to do. But, most of the time, it seems that they're always clad in their blue uniforms, smiling, and cheering someone on, if only the janitors in the hallways or the clock on the wall during sixth hour.

DONART DUDES

Spirit is one of those intangible things that a victory can always be credited with or a loss blamed on. The people in the stands who shout and yell with the action of the event put a lot of themselves into the final outcome. Sometimes their enthusiasm is frustrated and disappointed. This year, Donart teams haven't brought on that unhappy situation very often and perhaps that is because of the spirit behind them. Certainly, almost nothing lends itself better to organization and unity than support for your school's side. The DONART DUDES have involved anyone who wants in a competition that otherwise selects only the best at that particular game. They have come a long way in making victory a partnership.

CHEERLEADERS

RAIDER CHEERLEADERS have a tough job in a school where the other three classes are caught up in varsity athletics. They not only have to lend support, but develop it as well. In the meantime, they're learning how to organize the people and the teams for the next three years, either as varsity cheerleaders or just plain students. Put all together, they go more places, participate in more events, and face the challenge of more people than any single freshman sport. And they're only in the ninth grade. Just wait till they really get going.

MATMAIDS are intended especially for wrestling. In a fast sport in which time, the score, and the action on the mat are constantly changing, the people who keep track of everything, and cheer on their team at the same time, have to know what they're doing and perform their tasks well. Outside of the matches and tournaments, the MATMAIDS keep team records, print pictures taken during the action, and work with school to send the wrestlers off to each date on their schedule with a good feeling about victory.

NATIONAL FORENSIC LEAGUE

The NATIONAL FORENSIC LEAGUE says a lot, in a number of different ways, to a variety of audiences. Talking and conveying a message is their business. The fact that not many people know very much about how they do it shows their art. Acting and the skill of the backstage crew is all in the appearance given at the front of the stage. No one sees the rehearsals, the makeup, or the set building, only what's written in the script and the way that it's brought to life. Knowing that, there is a lot more to NFL than it seems at first look.

Mark Deal and Anne Luebke, members of NFL, also participated in the All-School Play.

President-elect Dave Jelly conducts a Q&S conference with characteristic enthusiasm.

QUILL & SCROLL is an honor society for journalism students. As such it is quite unique among other groups with similar purposes. For one thing, all members are on either the newspaper or annual staffs. This, in itself, is a good indication that not all is well or, for that matter, on time. For another, these people not only read the PIONEER and EXCELSIOR, they also put them together. Finally, there are the club meetings. Just to get someone to show up they have to announce the gathering for a time three hours earlier than actually planned, and then the photographers spend the next two hours locked in a closet yelling "Paper Out!"

Annette Fulk conducts her advertising business in the EXCELSIOR ad room.

Jeff Schatz points out a difference of intellectual opinion to another staff member.

It was learned today from a reliable source that the EXCELSIOR staff was, indeed, implicated in the writing, editing, and publication of a high school newspaper during the 1977-1978 school year. According to the source, who is close to the ongoing FBI investigation, there is no question but what a "smoking gun" has been found which points directly to the guilt of the 17 person staff.

The EXCELSIOR staff, itself, put out a strong denial of the charges. "We have never, do not intend in the future, and are not now working on any issue of any newspaper. We should have thought that our perfect record never making any deadline at any time was more than enough to totally disprove all allegations that we were responsible for this reprehensible act. It's just totally inoperable. We are not crooks."

STAFF

Sherilyn Stout, widely respected Editor, concludes her daily lecture to the photographers.

Shelly Manning concentrates on making the deadline.

An annual is a living, breathing person to its staff. It also snores. But more than that it is a series of impossible deadlines bound together by shared feelings of love, hate, companionship, and a constant desire to scream uncontrollably for hours in a locked room.

Nevertheless, life and the class sections seem to go on forever. Along the way, there are obstacles to be overcome (commonly known as photographers), mountains of names and faces to climb and conquer, and the inevitable emotional let down after you've used up your last bottle of liquid paper.

Finally, this is a group with only one real desire: To find a yearbook that needs only crayons and a polaroid camera.

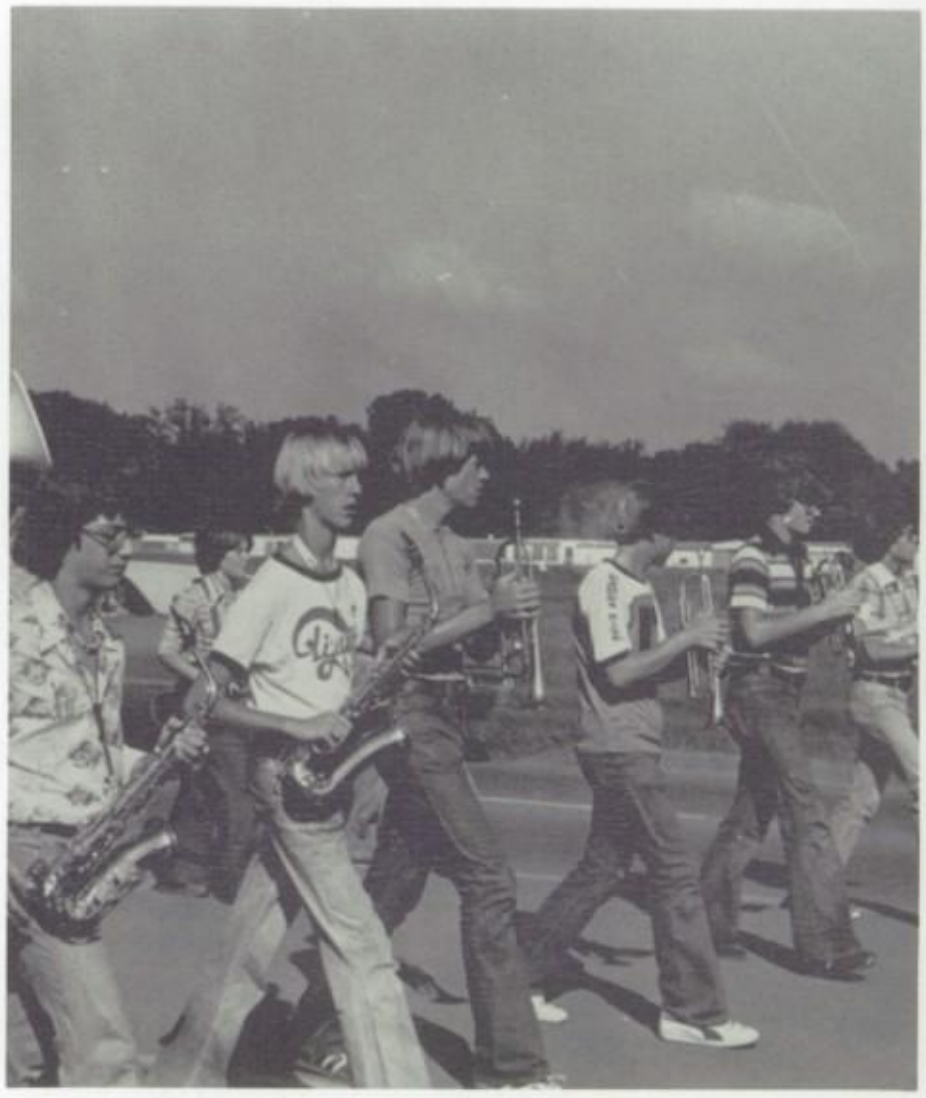
The Donart Band Program had another fine year under the direction of Mike Wenger. It's marching band, two concert bands, and two jazz bands provided sounds touching the musical interests of nearly everyone. All of these organizations performed at contests, as well as giving concerts for the school and general public. The marching band, through untold hours of rehearsals was able to bring halftime entertainment to Donart football games, as well as stimulating spirit. The jazz bands did the same for indoor sports, providing a jazz flavor at basketball halftimes.



The BAND members march on bravely during the homecoming parade this year. The band actively participated at pep assemblies promoting spirit.

ORCHESTRA

ORCHESTRA

ORCHESTRA. It means individual practice, play-offs, daily string rehearsals, weekly full orchestra rehearsals, magazine sales, and possibly participation in the Chamber Orchestra or the Guys and Dolls Orchestra. Rehearsals led by a man striving for a goal that will never be reached . . . perfection. But in striving for perfection, there comes certain improvement. With improvement comes better and better concert and contest performances, and with these performances comes the feeling that your goal can be the best, and that you can reach your goal. A good year for director Jeff Jones and the Donart Orchestra. Magazines, concerts, contests, and real music.

Practice, practice, practice makes perfect, as the orchestra well knows.

MADRIGAL

The MADRIGAL, selected from auditions within the Concert Choir last May, was greeted with a new size and concept for the new year. GUYS AND DOLLS

A musical is singing, dancing, acting, hard work, and a change of lifestyle for all of those involved with it. At Donart it means meeting the high standards which have been set by our own past productions. This year's production was "GUYS AND DOLLS", a musical fable of Broadway, that brought humor and a number of well-known, fast-paced songs together in a well-designed and well-staged package. And how was it? Nicely-Nicely thank you, and maybe even better.

The word Thespian has had a long relationship with the stage and acting. It's one which takes in all aspects of theatre, from the people you see up front, to those you don't, in the back. The Thespians of C.E. Donart do both sides of the coin throughout the year in a good number of major productions. As a relatively young organization they have made the All-School and Jr.-Sr. Plays a tradition in Stillwater and have raised the standards of excellence in high school drama.

ART CLUB

Art is a totally visual medium. It is also one of time, practice, and perfection. Once mastered, however, it is a mode of unlimited expression. Students of art spend most of their early years in getting used to the techniques and forms, from water color to sculpture to silk screen, and in refining their abilities. But the urge to create something new is reflected throughout the learning process. The attempts are no precise as to where they're going or what they're saying, but in each the talent and promise of the artist is visible.

Just look at these faces, what do you see? Open mouths? Sure, but beside that there is talent. And besides all the quantity you see, there is quality. There are unique individuals with some pretty individual sounds (if you know what we mean). But in moments of stress they can be pooled together for a wonderful sound of unity. Much to the relief of Mrs. Foster and Coach Maison.

ALL-SCHOOL PLAY

Lori, Sandy, Michelle and Anne Talk.

This year Donarts Drama Department presented "I remember Momma" as the all school play. It was a well presented, occasionally humorous, and a quite touching story of a family and it's perserverence during hard times. Under the direction of Kim Domnick the cast did a performance for High School students as well as the general public. As well as being a memorable experience for those involved, the play provides an excellent chance for students to display their abilities to the public.

HONORS

ALL-STATE HONORS

An All-state designation in any area, from sports to music, is a confirmation of excellence and consistent achievement. In football, the award is for a record extending over twelve or so games. In orchestra and choir, it is conferred upon the basis of judging in competition with students from throughout Oklahoma on regional, district, and state levels. Many of those from Donart listed here have achieved this distinction for several years running. That Stillwater students consistently make these elite lists says alot for the programs which have developed and shaped their talents.

QUEENS

When a group of students nominates a Senior girl as a candidate for their queen, it means that they really want one of these three people to represent them as the most visible symbol of that organization or sport. For the Band, DECA, and FFA, the final decision also rests with the members. For football, basketball, and wrestling the entire school is given the opportunity of deciding between the players' nominees. Once the decision has been made and announced, the queen truly reigns over the proceedings, either a game or match or a banquet, and the distinction of being chosen for these particular honors remains almost as fresh and exciting as the moment of the first announcement for a good deal of time

It started just like any other football season for the Pioneers. All the newspapers said that the Pioneers would do well in the following season, but not as well as the season before, "of course!" As in years before, the Pioneers did much better than most expected. The Stillwater gridders seem to hold a powerful desire to win, year after year, that makes up for any lack of talent.

Coach Holladay's players had a very impressive season losing only once to Tulsa Kelly in a very close game. Thus, the Pioneers had a 9-1 record, were rated #2, and were sure to go into the playoffs. Stillwater won the first three rounds, including a victory over the powerful Sand-Springs Sandites, rated No. 1 all season. The Pioneers finally fell to Duncan in the Class 3-A finals in Oklahoma City.

Stillwater finished as district champs, and 3-A state runner-ups.

JUNIOR VARSITY

The Junior Varsity squad faced a tough line up this year, and lost their opening game 13-12 in a tough battle with Enid. They lost their next game in another close game to Perry 8-6. Then the sophomores shut out Guthrie 6-0. Coach Alger Flood said, "The team worked out with the varsity squad at the first part of the year, and then towards the end of the season they split up more." The split must have helped because they won two of the last three games, which gave them a season record of 3-5. The team, lead by quarterback David Todd and running backs Randy Hill and Allen Knust, have a bright future ahead for them next year.

coaches were pleased by the way the team had shaped up. They only lost one more game all season, and in overtime they defeated Okmulgee, one of the top teams in the state. They ended a winning season with a victory over Ponca City West, leaving them with a 6-2 record and 3rd in the district. This is the best season the Raiders have had since 1973 when they went 6-2-1.

The Raiders, under new head Coach Dean Oshel, got off on the right foot by winning their first game against Sapulpa 22-8, but Coach Oshel felt some improvement was needed. By mid-season the team's record was 3-1 and the

The Pioneer Cross Country team this year has had a sucessful season, leading runners were Sr. Jim Jordan, Sr. Kelly Vest, Jr. Dan VanZandt, Soph. David Jordan. The girls have placed 2nd in state and although are a small team they have a couple of great runners in Karen Weber and Loni Vest. One of the best things about the girls team is that runners are freshmen and have three years to improve and become the best in state.

Most of you aren't real sure what Cross Country is. It is alot of dedication and hard work, running 10 miles in practice, running when it is cold enough to freeze. They don't receive very much recogination or encouragement and after they have run 3 miles they need guts and all the encouragement they can get to sprint the last 100 yards.

CROSS-COUNTRY FOOTBALL WRESTLING

Tim Sibley carries out the familiar job of bringing the ball down the court.

The Stillwater Pioneer Boys Basketball team was full of surprises all year. They had a 15-7 record at the end of the season. They had a hard time getting things together early in the season as shown by a loss to Northeast, 53-58, but you knew they had potential when they bounced back the next game to defeat Douglas 82-56. The Pioneers lost the next game by one point to Edison; the final score was 58-59. Then the Pioneers took off. They defeated Ponca City, Bartlesville Sooner, Okmulgee, Enid and Del City. The major factor in these wins was hot shooting outside by Chick Davis, Tim Sibley, Glenn Hughes, and also the control of the boards by Craig Stunkel and Larry Schultz. Then their winning streak was broken by a loss to Capital Hill. At this time, the Pioneers gained the service of Zack Webster, which gave them good strength on the bench and added depth to their game. The Pioneers then went on to win the next five games against Putnam City, Douglas, Alva and Owasso.

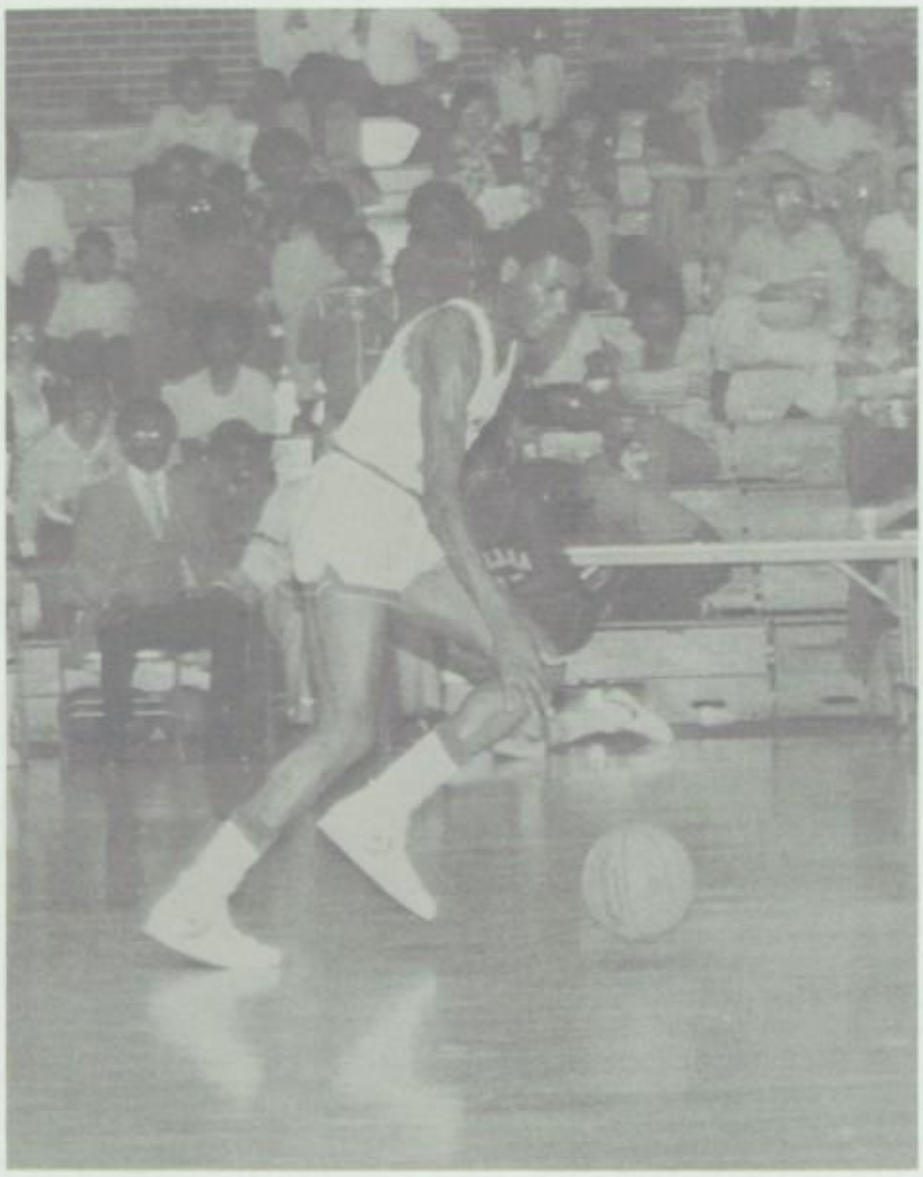
The Pioneer team starts up the court after Craig Stunkel pulls down another rebound.



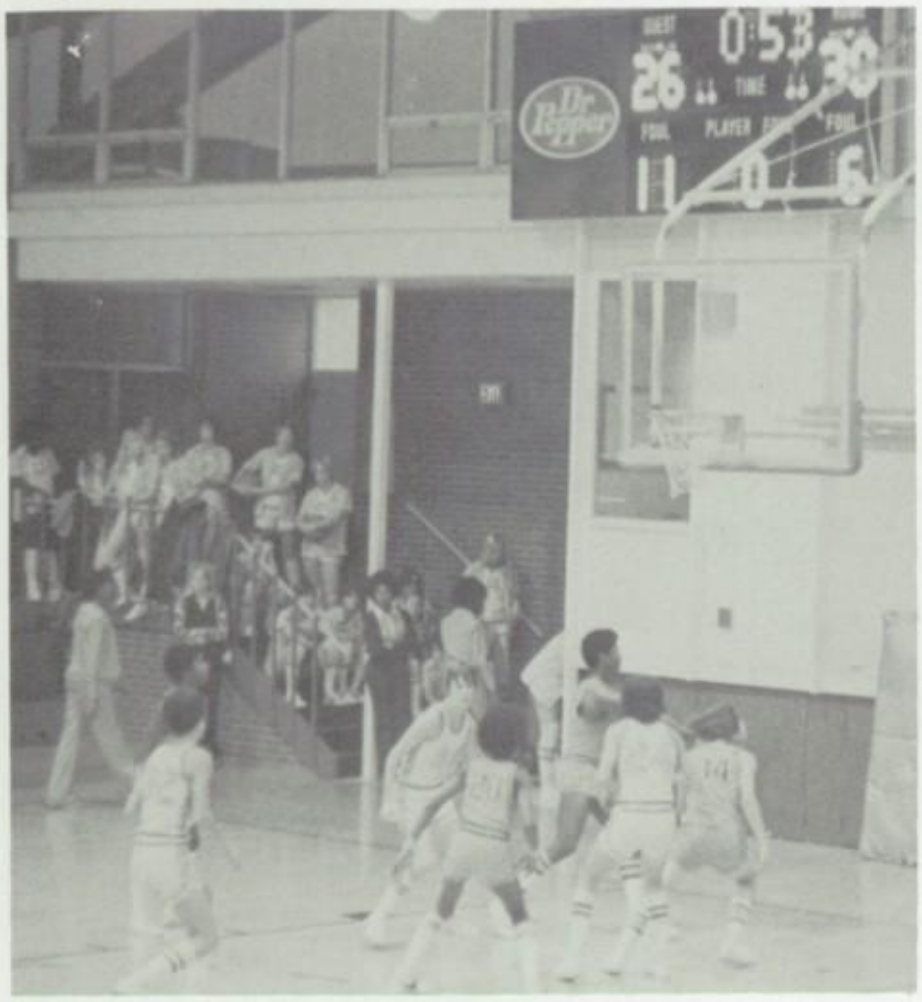
Chick Davis concentrates on controlling the ball as he moves down the court.

Craig shows us where most of his points come from as he puts one up from underneath.

It was during this series of wins that the Pioneers were in the Tournament of Champions, and surprised everyone by all the way to the finals. After this, the Pioneers started having problems out of the next eight games. They split them up 4-4. They started out by losing to New Lima by 6 points, then they won by 22 against Okmulgee, lost by 3 to Northeast, defeated Guthrie by 6, lost to Enid by 3. Then, because the defeats were so close, then the pioneers won two in a row by whipping Guthrie 69-36, and defeating Bartlesville Sooner 68-56, the school hoped that we would win the rest so we would have the momentum to go into the state play-offs. Then the Pioneers lost to Edison 63-70, but ours is the team of surprises and they can do it with the talent, and senior leadership they have.

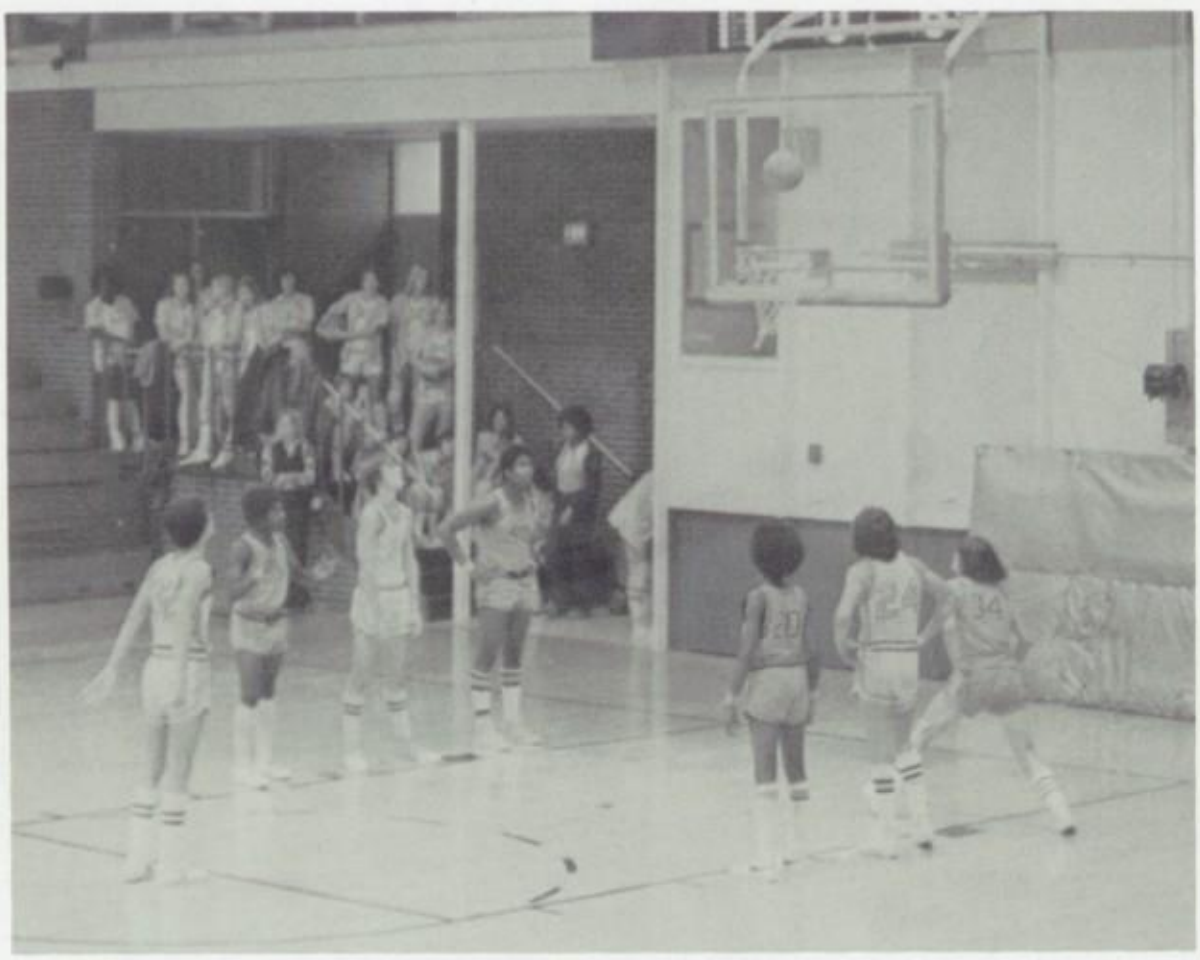
The Pioneer pre-game warm up consists of some fast ball moving and team work.

The Junior Varsity squad gained alot of playing experience this year and they had alot of good prospects with players like Stet Sodowsky, Micheal Wyneken, Don Roy and Duane Childers. The Varsity team this year is almost all seniors with the exception of Glen Hughes which leads to the obvious conclusion that this year's Junior Varsity will be the Varsity of next. With the many assets this team has got, next year is going to be a winner.



The Pioneers are on the offensive again in the last minute of the game.

The Junior Varsity team prepares to move back up court after another bucket.



Don Roy shows us his style while he gains his points at the charity stripe.

The Raider team is the surprise this year. They have had an undefeated season and ended the year with a 16-0 record which put them first in the conference.

If the Raider team can keep this record we can look forward to a strong varsity team. Some of the standouts this year are Anthony Curtis, Kevin Fowler, and Ted Cunningham.

The Pioneer Girls Varsity Basketball team wound up a winning season with a 74-46 over Tulsa Edison. This gives them a 15-7 record for the year. The season has been one of many ups and downs. They started the season off with four straight wins against Northeast, Douglas, Edison, and Northeast. Part of the reason for these wins is that they averaged 54 points a game and held their opponents to 40 points a game. Then they had a turn around and lost the next three games against Choctaw, Elk City, and Bartlesville Sooner. But they came back strong with a 57-38 win over Okmulgee, and followed up with two more wins against Enid and Pawnee. Then they lost a heartbreaker, 42-43, to Drumright, and one more against Stroud. Then the girls started to build up momentum. They won four hard games against Ponca City,

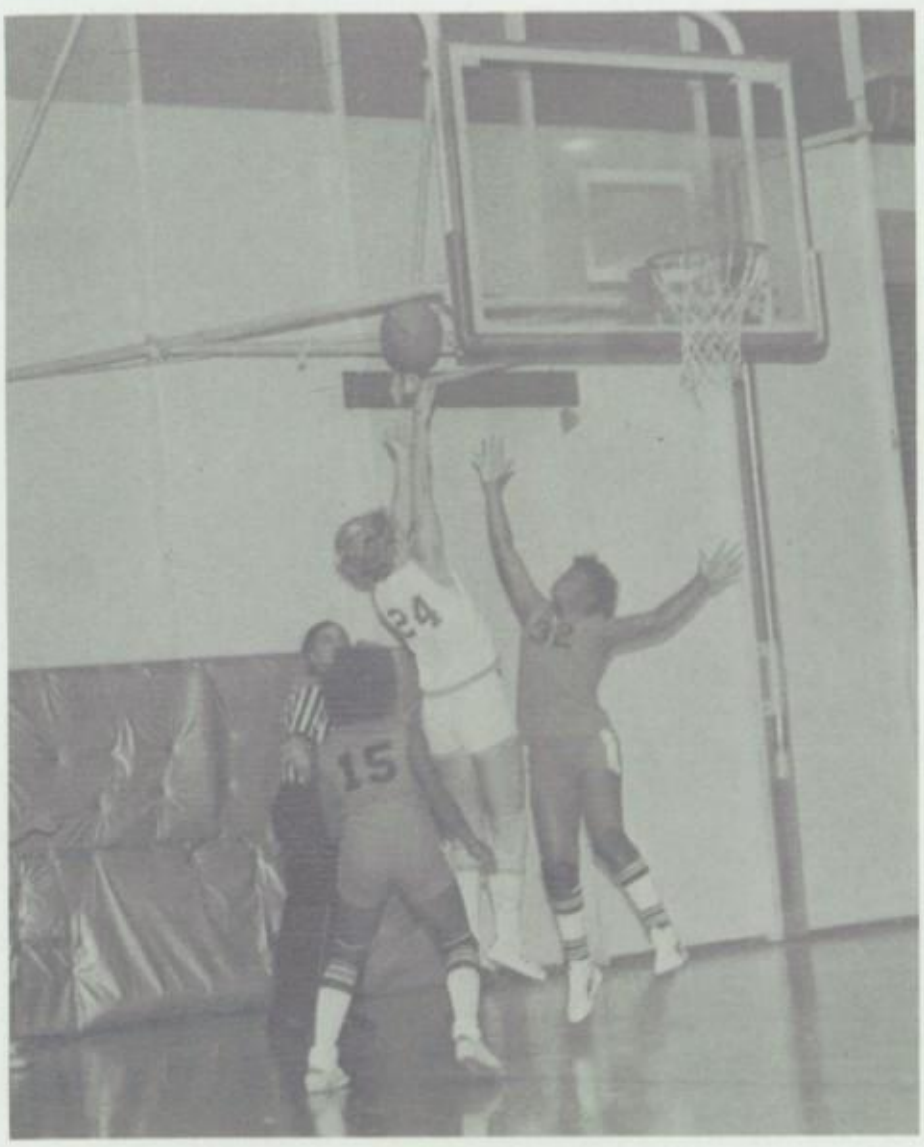
Douglas, Okmulgee, and Northeast, the largest margin victory during this four game streak was 7 points. Then the girls stumbled and lost in a close game against Guthrie 31-34, but they bounced back two games later to defeat Guthrie 47-35. In the next to the last game against Bartlesville Sooner. The girls lost by a narrow scope of 38-39 as one of the girls on the opposing team made a basket in the last seconds of the game. The following week the girls came back to win 74-46 with four girls in the double figures.

The greatest thing about the girls team this year is that they are only graduating two seniors and they still have their starting forwards. Not only that they have depth and some new players coming up that will improve the team. So everyone keep your eyes on this team because they are going to the top.



Jamie Shepherd puts one up strong while receiving opposition from the opponents double team.

SWIMMING GYMNASTICS BASKETBALL

BASKETBALL

Fans gained interest in the Raider girls this year as they did very well, ending the season with a 12-4 record and second in the conference. The secret of their success is in their aggressive playing by the forwards and a strong defense. Participation from the girls was at an all time high, with many girls out for the team. The team is young and willing to make improvements where needed. These qualities of the Raider girls assures them of a promising future. The girls will be called to fill J.V. positions next year as Pioneers.

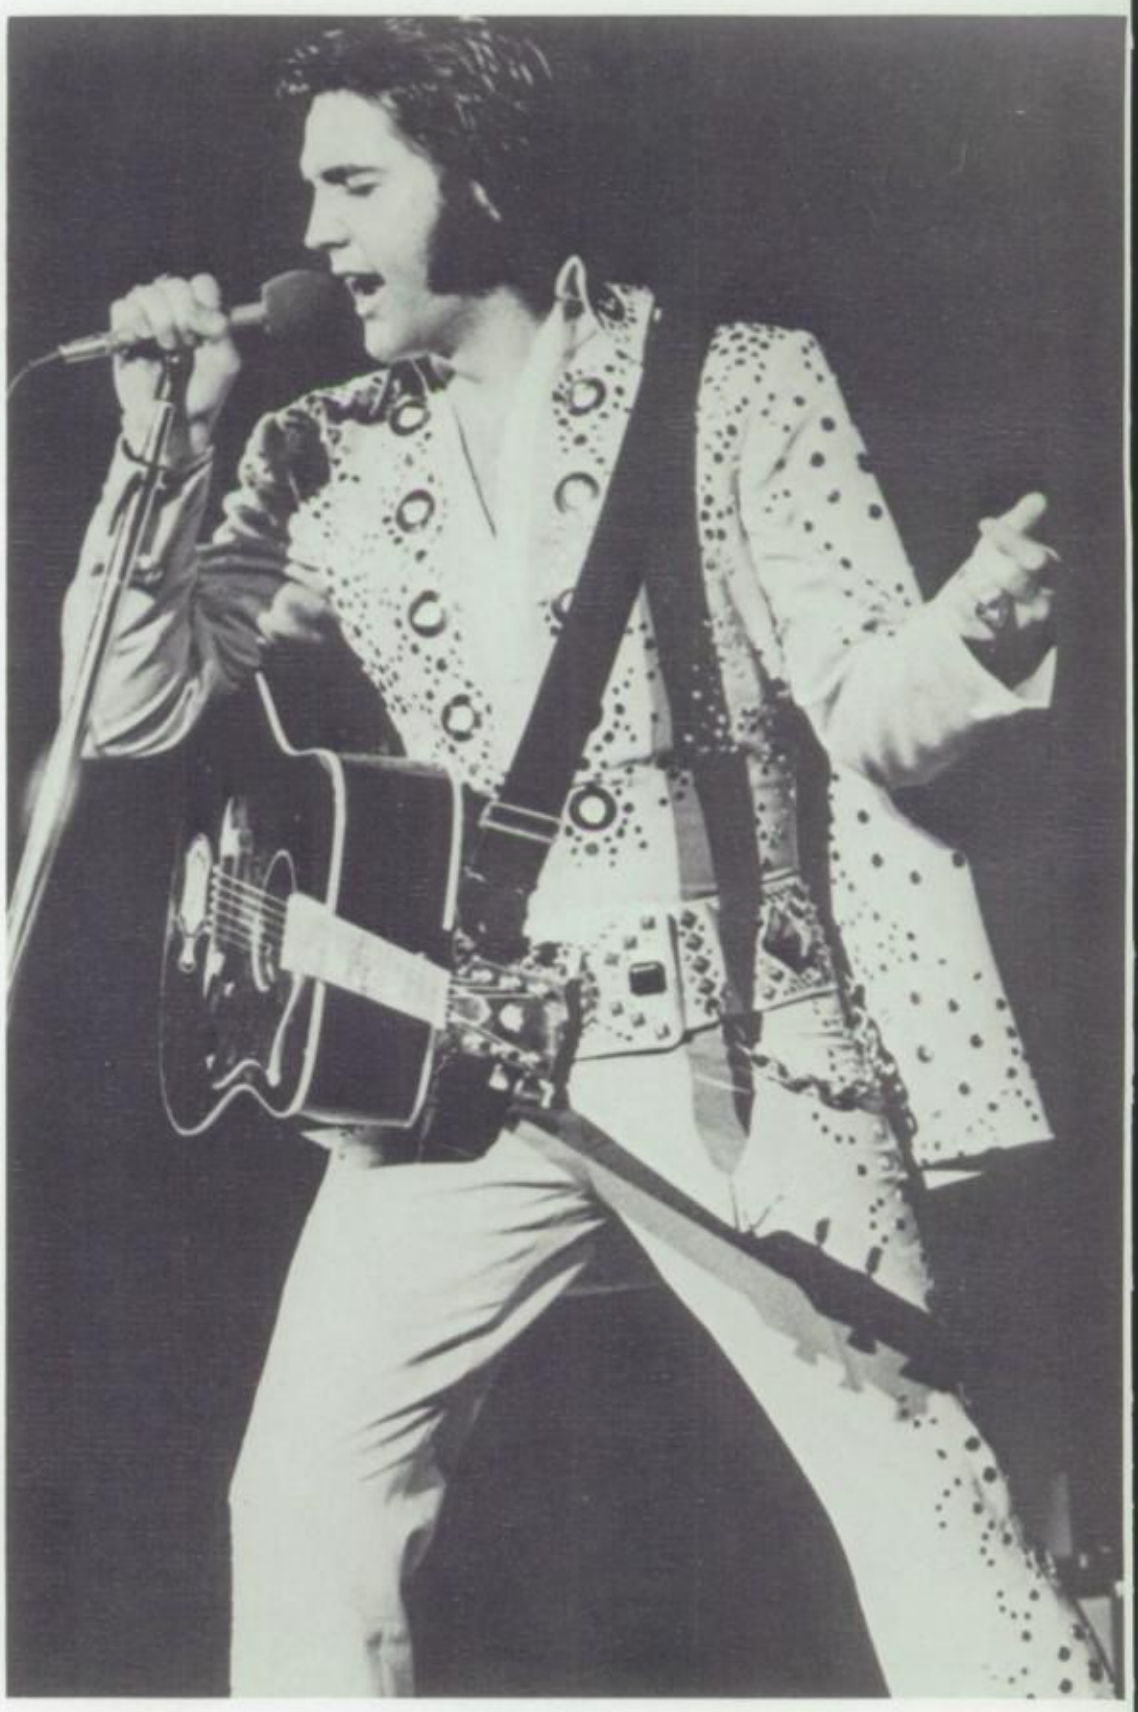
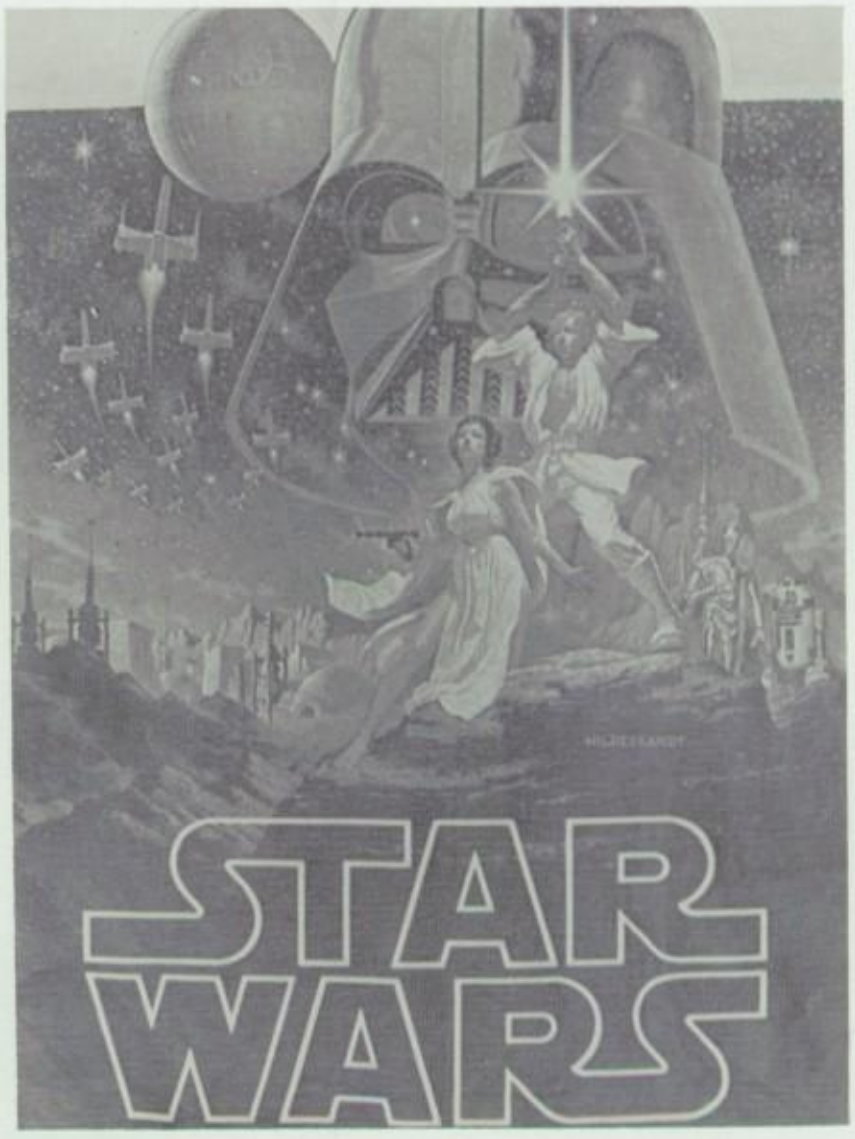
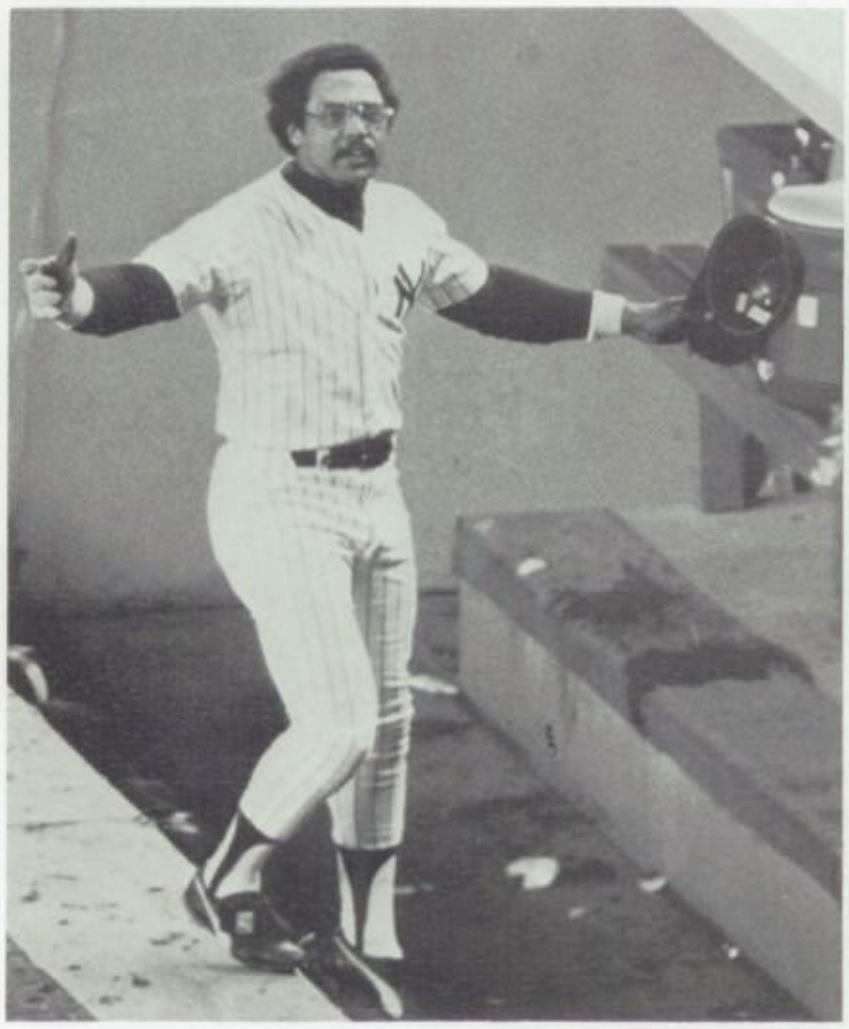
HUBERT HUMPHREY

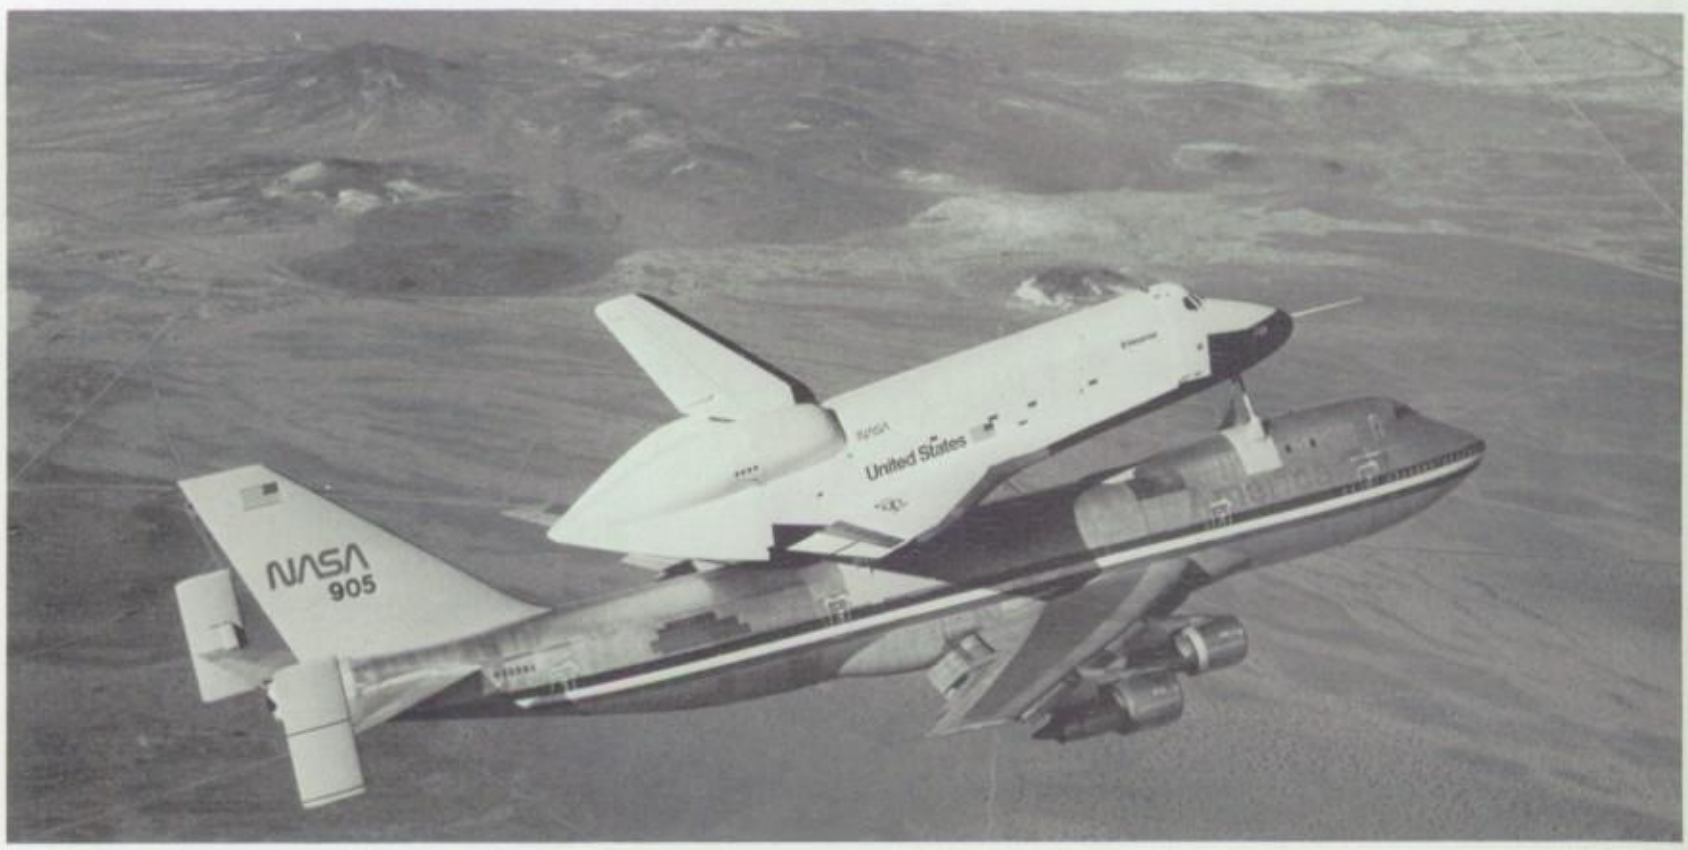




The year 1977 brought the deaths of Freddie Prinze, Bing Crosby, and Elvis Presley, king of rock 'n' roll. Senator Hubert Humphrey died early in 1978 and is remembered for the courage and leadership shown during his battle with cancer. "Star Wars" was the newest sensation in motion pictures.

In the world of sports Reggie Jackson set a home run record during the 1977 World Series and Janet Guthrie was the first woman to compete in the Indianapolis 500-mile auto race. America's space shuttle, Enterprise, rode atop its 747 carrier over the California desert during it's first flight.

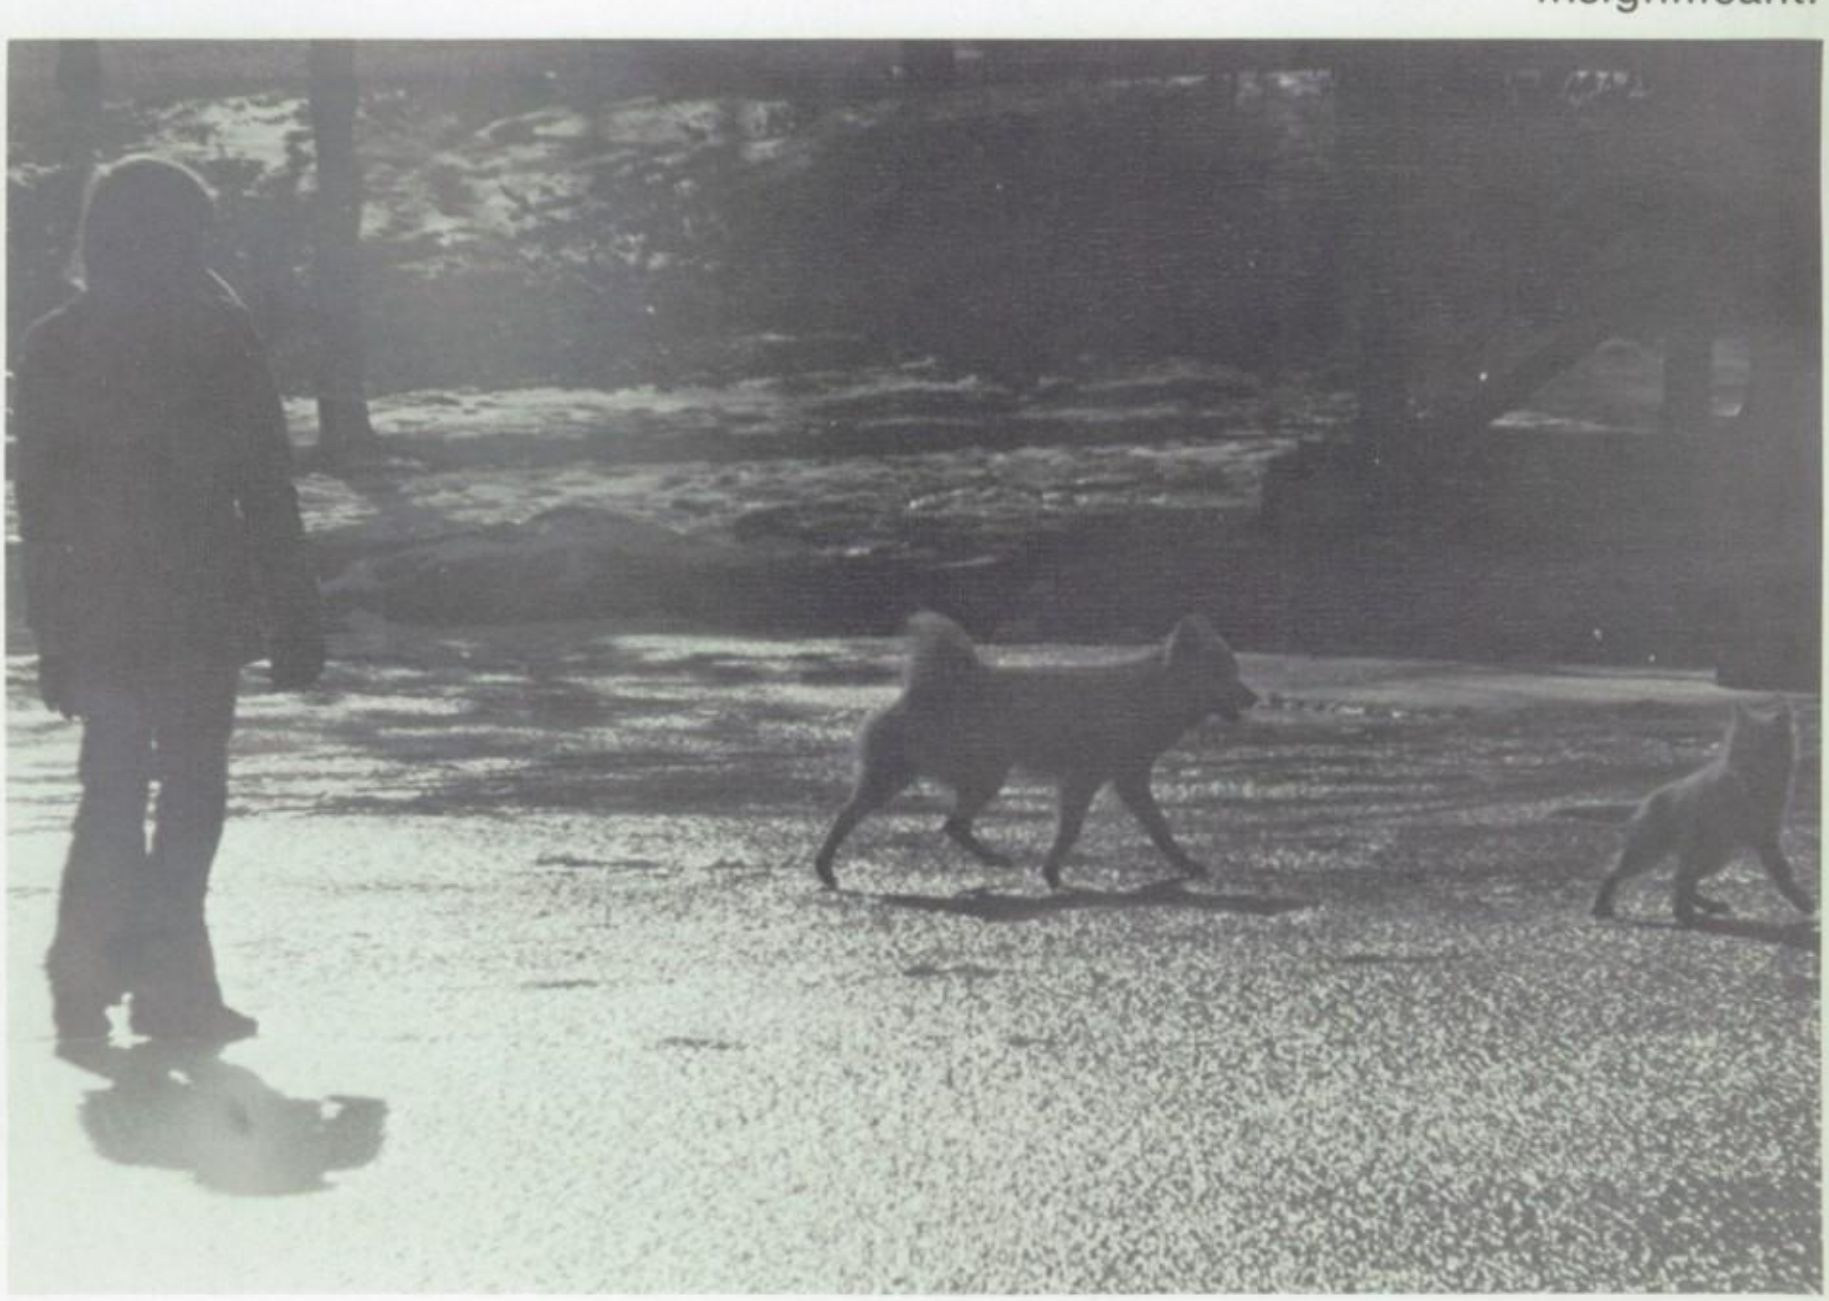




Fires such as these raged through the west coast states during the summer months of 1977.

Gene Simmons, the vampire figure of the rock group, KISS, extends his tongue which he constantly displays in a serpent-like fashion during the group's performance. George Willig, toy maker, climbs up the sheer face of the World Trade Tower in New York City in May of 1977.

Dear Students:
Once again, another year of thrills, chills, and excitement has been concluded at C.E. Donart. It is appropriate at this time to look back upon the fond memories I am sure all of you harbor for the ivy and plastic covered hallways of this, your educational and spiritual haven as long as you're not wearing a hat. We want you to know that no matter where you go in this wide world, unless it is to Norman, there will always be a place here for you, however small and insignificant.



It is an article of faith with us that we feel that you have been adequately prepared for every possible contingency of adult life. Of course, whether or not this is actually true is another thing altogether. However, the first time you have the urge to cancel something because of snow, park in a back lot, or eat in a cafeteria, it is our belief that the lessons you have learned here will assert themselves and you will resist.

Lite

This is not to say that life after high school is a bed of roses and green grass, especially since another lesson we hope you have learned is never to walk across the courtyard. Still, as a former Pioneer, one who has participated in blazing the vital trail to the new TG&Y store, you have what it takes to meet the enemy face to face and subdue him, even if he is from Duncan.

In concluding, I would just like to recall for you some of the colorful and poignant moments of a time now gone by: the pomp and pageantry of enrollment followed almost immediately by the inevitable emotional let-down of actual day-to-day drudgery; the marvelous escapism of Western Week, Fifties Week, and the days leading up to Christmas vacation and Spring Break; that delicious, sensuous aroma that comes when the wind is in the South and McDonald's is preparing for the noon rush; and the annual migratory arrival of the first few yearbooks from Capistrano.

So now, finally and at last, for something completely different: The End.

THANKS

Senior TaVee Paine designed the cover of the 1978 PIONEER. With a few basic ideas she produced a black ink sketch of characters and lettering that were silk screened in color.

The staff received help from individuals this year and we would like to express our appreciation to them. Special thanks go to Mrs. Jones, our new sponsor who proved she could hold her own in the midst of deadlines. We would also like to give special thanks to TaVee Paine, cover design, Gary Folsom of Hunter Publishing Company, Paul House for pictures, Henry Osborn for pictures, and Mark Costley for his fine arts contribution.

The following should also be mentioned; custodial staff, coaching staff, the administration and faculty of C.E. Donart, and Indian Meridian Vo-Tech, Mr. Schenandoah, and Mrs. Kiser. Personal friends who gave their own time in preparation of the book are: Brenda Croy, Sandy Lucas, Hans Hurst, Robert Weeks, Ruth Osborn, Melinda Shideler, and Jan Bouchard. Last, a special thanks to our parents for their understanding when we got home late or didn't make it home at all.

THE PIONEER

The central idea, or theme, that we chose to express this year was to be different. In fact, we decided to follow "And Now For Something Completely Different" as our goal. Change was difficult but we believe we coped as well as expected, and maybe better.

The "Book" is finished, almost. But even in the midst of finality this year and (sigh) the very last deadline, the 1978 PIONEER cannot be complete without you, the student body, the staff members who created this book are naturally more affected by it than those who believe yearbooks are a natural phenomenon that occur each May. Do us a favor. Read the book. Look at it from cover to cover. And then decide you love it. Because it's yours. Because we did it just for you.

SPECIFICATIONS

The 1978 PIONEER is printed on Hunter's saxony paper. The type consists of 12 pt. Helvetica for body type, 10 pt. for captions and 8 pt. for identifications. The cover is Sailcloth #15061 with applied colors Black, PMS 109, and PMS 286.

A tragic mid-year accident claimed the life of one of Donart's best,Senior Kyle Seamans. To say that Kyle will be fondly remembered by those who knew him would be an immense understatement. Kyle led his life with almost determination, as well as an always good natured personality. He was able to enjoy himself, to have a good time, without adversely affecting others. Kyle's friendship meant friendship to its fullest extent, and he was always ready to extend it. Kyle Seamans . . . his special good natured spirit will live on forever in those hearts who knew him.
